UPDATE TO ALL FAMILY AND FRIENDS

Hello, there are no new positive test results as of today! Hurray!

The staff testing continues today and we await the receipt of the test results from our three days of staff testing.

If everything continues to be on track, our outbreak should be declared over by Ottawa Public Health on Oct. 20, 2020. This will happen if:

- i) There are no further positive test results received.
- ii) All outstanding test results have been received from residents with any symptoms. This is not something we can predict as a resident could develop symptoms on the 19th and Public Health may require this result back before they will declare the outbreak over.

Our next update will be on Monday, October 19 , unless there is any news over the weekend.

Enjoy the weekend and stay safe,

Janet Morris
